

Chace Supports 'Home Rule' in Fire Consolidation Proposals

Fire chiefs of some 73 incorporated cities within the County today were assured by Supervisor Burton W. Chace that consolidation of fire fighting services will not be "jammed down their throats."

Supervisor Chace's statement was given during discussion by the Board of Supervisors of the issue of consolidation of not only fire services but other governmental functions between cities and Los Angeles County.

"A great deal of study has gone into this matter over the years," Chace told the Board. "We have always looked to elected officials of the cities to initiate such requests for county services."

"It is my feeling that any program for consolidation of fire or other municipal-type services must of course be self-supporting so as not to create an additional burden for the taxpayer."

"But we should not make any solicitation or offer of such service. I am not going to 'jam it down their throats' either now or later," Chace declared.

The issue of consolidation, although not on the agenda as such, arose when Supervisor Ernest Debs sought permission for two County fire companies in his District to assist the City of Los Angeles in Sunset Strip area fires.

The proposal was referred to L. S. Hollinger, chief administrative officer, for study.

At Sale's End

Pioneer Torrance Merchant Retiring

Mr. and Mrs. James Squire, owner of Squire Style Shoppe for Children, 1313 Sartori, have announced that they will retire from retailing at the conclusion of their "Quitting Business Sale" which starts today.

In 1941 they purchased the Tiny Tyke Shop on El Prado, and moved to the present location in 1954. The name was changed at that time.

The name change came about when Mrs. Squire overheard a 9-year-old boy complain to his mother about shopping in a store for "tiny tykes," when he was really a big boy. On hearing this, the Squires set about changing the name to Squire Style Shoppe for Children.

THREE YEARS ago, a large sub-teen department was added. The completely air conditioned department, with its youthful decor, gained its name through a community wide contest. A Torrance girl's entry was chosen and the sub-teen department became known as the Vanity Village.

During the years as many new approaches to retailing developed, Mr. and Mrs. Squire continued to adhere to the unwavering principle that quality was always the best value. They stocked only American brand names of the highest character, such as Carter's, Quiltex, Billy the Kid, Farah, Dale, Wonderalls, Donmoor, Don Rancho, Peaches 'n Cream, Monterey Modes, Voila, Jody's, Cinema Modes, Darlene, Blue Bird, Ram, May Knit, and Youngland.

Principle prevailed, as their business grew and prospered, their family of customers grew and became loyal also to the principle. With heavy heart, the Squires today prepared for the closeout sale, more than half hoping that someone will come forward to carry on the store's name and tradition.

Subdivision Activity at Record High

Subdivision development activity throughout unincorporated areas of Los Angeles County set a new high in dollar value during the 1961-62 fiscal period, Supervisor Burton W. Chace reported yesterday.

As chairman of the Board of Supervisors' Road Committee, Supervisor Chace pointed out that during this period the Road Department approved street plans totaling $10,753,198 within 175 proposed subdivisions.

THIS represents a $1,198,000 increase over the previous year, Chace added.

During the year covered by the report, plans for nearly 15 miles were Master Plan Highways.

NEARLY 65 MILES of roads were added to the County Road System of Highways in 99 tracts during the fiscal period. An important part of such a program, Supervisor Chace said, is the gratis dedication of rights-of-way to the county by tract developers, which represents a substantial saving to the public.

"This surge in road building reflects the increase in home development within unincorporated areas of the county. The Road Department is the agency responsible for overseeing the highway work to assure proper construction standards," Chace said.

Home S & L Sets Exhibit Of Messages

An unusual display of commendations from mayors and chambers of commerce upon Home Savings' "billion-dollar-break" will be seen Friday in the association's office at 1511 Cravens Ave., according to Jerome B. Scott, assistant vice president.

Last December when Home became the first savings and loan association in the country to pass the magical billion-dollar mark, communities in which the association has offices commended the company for contributions to the community.

Home Savings with assets over $1 billion is the largest savings and loan association in the nation.

Humane Society Takes Over City Animal Welfare

The Southern California Humane Society has taken over animal welfare work in the city of Torrance, officials reported yesterday.

The society's shelter is located at 12910 Yukon Ave., and inquiries about dog licenses or lost pets should be made at the shelter.
